Kara Eastman says GOP Tax Bill is a Fraud

This week, the Administration will sign a bill that was pushed through Congress without debate. Despite expert advice from economists, Republicans are selling this bill to the American public in a way that is dishonest. This bill is historically unpopular; we know it will benefit the wealthy at the expense of average voters and working class families.

Real estate tycoons and corporations don't need "tax relief" advantages that are permanent. Corporations will be getting a huge tax cut even though their effective tax rates are lower than those in many other developed nations around the world. A recent Pew survey shows that almost two-thirds of Americans are bothered "a lot" because corporations don't pay their fair share in taxes. Only 9% of Americans actually think corporations pay "too much." Tax relief for middle-class families in this bill is temporary.

Kara Eastman released this statement in response:

“Under this tax bill, the deficit will skyrocket, with $1.5 trillion in debt being added over the next decade. This is tragic news for all Americans who care about fiscal responsibility and government accountability. Any tax relief this will provide to the middle class is temporary. We should not support these policies. It’s time to vote those who do out of office in 2018!”

Kara is the President and CEO of Omaha Healthy Kids Alliance and the Vice-Chair of the Board of Governors of Metropolitan Community College. She is the only life-long Democrat running for Congress in Nebraska’s Second District.
