Kara Eastman calls on Don Bacon to return Duncan Hunter's tainted money.

Omaha, Neb. – Today, Kara Eastman is calling on Congressman Don Bacon to rid himself of campaign cash from recently indicted Congressman Duncan Hunter. Federal prosecutors have charged Hunter and his wife with conspiracy, wire fraud, and campaign finance violations.

Bacon has taken $1,000 from Duncan Hunter's Peace Through Strength PAC. Additionally, Bacon has accepted campaign donations from corporations that include TD Ameritrade, the Koch Brothers and various oil and gas companies. Only 4.21% of his campaign funds are from small, individual donations. Kara Eastman has refused to take a cent of corporate PAC money.

"Don Bacon's donor, Congressman Duncan Hunter, betrayed the public trust and has since been charged with conspiracy, wire fraud, and campaign finance violations," said Kara Eastman. "While Bacon's campaign is being funded by PACs and shady characters, I won't take a cent from corporate PACs. Bacon should return this donation immediately—anything less is unacceptable."

Kara is the former President and CEO of Omaha Healthy Kids Alliance and the Vice-Chair of the Board of Governors of Metropolitan Community College. She is the Democratic nominee running for Congress in Nebraska's Second District.
